

Bowling Green - Brian Cambron, left, V.P. Bowling Green Branch Operations Manager, former Bowling Green Branch Manager, B.C. Meeks, and Bob Austin, former Ashland and Paducah Branch Manager, pose by a new compact track loader.

Bowling Green – Joel and Raymond Armistead brought a 1937 Caterpillar 22 tractor and a John Deere Killifer plow, believed to be from the 1930s, for the agricultural equipment display. The plow had a plate that read, “Sold by Roy C. Whayne Supply Co.”

Bowling Green – Whayne Sales Rep P.J. Tallarico talks with guests about the features of a Cat backhoe.

Wayne employees and local dignitaries cut the ribbon in front of the Hopkinsville office. Wayne President Monty Boyd, with scissors, prepared to cut the ribbon with Dan Kemp, Mayor of Hopkinsville (to the right of Monty).

Hopkinsville – Guests were encouraged to register and visit the outdoor displays.

Hopkinsville – Lunch was served under a tent.

Hopkinsville – The front entrance was set up to make it easy for guests to find the open house.

Hopkinsville – Customers, Whayne representatives and factory representatives discuss Challenger products.

Elizabethtown – There were machine simulators at the open house for customers to try their skills.

Elizabethtown – Lunch was served in the shop area. The bucket of a CAT 299C held the drinks.

Elizabethtown – Guests on their way to lunch.

Bowling Green – Whayne Truck Engine Account Manager, Don Beck, explains the benefits of a RigMaster auxiliary power unit.

Bowling Green – Entrance.

Bowling Green – Wayne Lubricant Sales Specialist, Carolyn Agnew, discusses the benefits of synthetic oil.

Bowling Green – Russell Upchurch, Wayne Undercarriage Specialist, talked with a guest at the ground engaging tool display.

The No. 31 CAT car was a big hit at all the open houses. Here it is seen in the Bowling Green truck shop.